San Antonio Board of REALTORS® to Team Up with San Antonio Food Bank to Spread Holiday Cheer Food Just in Time for Thanksgiving Day

SAN ANTONIO – The San Antonio Board of REALTORS® will team up with San Antonio Food Bank to provide a food distribution at the Alamodome on Tuesday, November 24 from 9:00 to 11:00 a.m. San Antonio residents who are in need have registered to receive the food that will be distributed.

On Tuesday, SABOR and the San Antonio Food Bank will have lanes set up to provide food just in time for Thanksgiving Day for those who are the most in need. Families who have experienced tragedy, job loss, a death in the family, or a financial bill that tipped the scales into poverty are those who will be receiving the packages of food.

"Giving back to our community is so important to SABOR and our values," said Kim Bragman, SABOR's 2020 Chairman of the Board. "Each person we are serving is a resident who is important to our greater community -- someone's mother, brother, sister, father, friend, colleague, employee -- someone who needs a helping hand, and we are glad to be there to extend ours."

REALTORS® from the SABOR team will volunteer to distribute food in lanes that will be set up for safe, touchless delivery into the recipients' cars. There will also be walk-up stations for those who do not have transportation. These recipients will receive an emergency box, package for an easier commute.

"The holidays can be a tough time for families who struggle to put food on the table. Having partners like the SABOR team step up to see that no child or senior goes hungry this season is the spirit of giving and sharing that makes San Antonio great," said Eric S. Cooper, President & CEO.
